Clark Regional Wastewater District Extends Sewer to NE 10th Ave Corridor

Vancouver, WA – More than 400 Acres of land, including approximately 100 Acres of employment lands, will benefit from recent investments made by the Clark Regional Wastewater District (District). The District has invested $3.4 million in the construction of wastewater improvements along the NE 10th Ave corridor. The District Board of Commissioners were committed to ensuring sewer service would be accessible when the County completed construction of the 10th Avenue Bridge. “Sewer service is an important part of attracting economic development to the corridor and protecting public health and the environment,” said Commissioner Norm Harker, District Board President. Funding for the improvements came from System Development Charge revenue, which is collected from new development.

The work was completed through a series of projects, including partnering with Clark County on the 10th Avenue Bridge project. The projects presented many challenges, including the extension of gravity sanitary sewer pipe across the creek(s) and across Interstate 5, without disrupting traffic. Those challenges were solved with close coordination and cooperation amongst multiple partners, including Clark County Public Works, Washington State Department of Transportation and Clark Public Utilities. To date, more than 1.5 miles of new pipe and a new sewer pumping station have been constructed.
