Press Release

NE 78 Street Sewer Rehabilitation Complete

Clark Regional Wastewater District (District) recently completed a sewer replacement project in NE 78th Street, on-time and on-budget. The $2.9 million project included installation of approximately 2,500 lineal feet of new gravity sewers in NE 78th Street from NE 13th Avenue east to Heritage Farm. The new pipe replaced existing, aged sewer lines, improving reliability, reducing maintenance and increasing capacity. Funding for the project was generated through customer rates.

This project is part of the District's proactive efforts to reinvest in the sewer system to keep it operating safely and efficiently. "This investment will provide customers with continued reliable and affordable service, protecting public health and the environment," said Robin Krause, District Engineer. "Completing the project on-time and on-budget is a credit to everyone involved."

Many stakeholders and partners helped make this project successful. The District was in close coordination with Clark County Public Works throughout the project, working together to minimize traffic impacts. The District appreciates the patience and flexibility of area businesses, residents and the public throughout the duration of the project. Special thanks also go to Nutter Corporation for their work during construction and the project team for delivering a successful project.
